destroyed the lead and salt works. The rebel department of Western Virginia is broken up and Breckinridge has been badly wounded and gone with his scattered forces to North Carolina. Gen. Stoneman's troops are in fine condition and good spirits.

CITY.—Yesterday was a cool but otherwise pleasant day. The mud has frozen up, which makes it somewhat more agreeable to "man and beast." Business was rather dull. Arrests were few. We noticed fewer soldiers on the streets than we have seen for many a day.
Knock downs, guerrilla raids and highway robberies were not so numerous as usual.
Military matters were dull. Items were scarce.

ROBERTS.—Last Saturday night three men in soldiers' dress met Mr. J. W. Perkins between Ninth and Tenth streets. One of them placed a pistol to his head and warned him not to report or make a noise, as he would blow his brains out. The two others searched his pockets and robbed him of eight or nine dollars and other articles. They left immediately and went toward the river.

A Row.—A lot of Irishmen engaged in a free fight yesterday on Main street, below Fourth. Several were knocked down and beaten, and another was cut on the back of the neck severely. Two of the parties were arrested and put in the Buttrick No. 1 guardhouse. Whiskey was the cause of it.

BARRECKS.—Business was more lively than usual yesterday. One hundred and fifteen conscripts arrived from various parts. One hundred and seventy-one men arrived from Madison, Wisconsin. Two hundred and eighty-eight men were sent to Nashville and twenty to Cincinnati.

DEBENTURES.—John H. McPherson, of company K, Fourth Michigan cavalry, John Stru-burg, of company A, Twenty-eighth Kentucky, and Joseph A. Harman, of company M, Seventh Pennsylvania cavalry, were all arrested in the city yesterday charged with being deserters.

A great many boys are guilty of robbing our subscribers of their morning papers after they are thrown into their yards by our carriers. We would say to these little thieves that we are on the track of them, and if they do not quit it they will be arrested.

W. W. Wright, private in company D, Second Kentucky, C. S. A., who has been confined in the military prison here for a long time, has been ordered to be sent to Camp Chase, Ohio, and there kept at hard labor until the war is over. He is said to be a deserter.

General Walter C. Whitaker, who commands a brigade in Wood's division, arrived from the front Wednesday night. He is en route for Frankfort to take his seat in the Senate. The General looks as stout and healthy as ever.

The annual meeting of the Kentucky State Agricultural Society will be held at their rooms, in Frankfort, on Thursday, January 8th, 1865, for the purpose of electing officers to act for the ensuing year.

The Nashville train was detained somewhat last night. A train passed over the bridge at Nolichucky. It will be completed in a few days. Trains will run through hereafter.

"Will the New Year come to-night Mamma?" is the title of a beautiful song published by Mr. D. P. Fausa. We thank him for a copy.

Felix Wells, a rebel deserter from Spencer county, Ky., took the boat yesterday and became a "naturalized citizen" of the United States.

J. M. Hester, the good-looking and accommodating messenger of the Adams Express Company, has our thanks for Eastern papers.

Anderson.—Everybody will be glad to learn that Arlington and his "corps d'Afrique!" will open in the Masonic Temple on Monday night.

Lieutenant Colonel R. C. Kise, 120th regiment Indiana Infantry, is in the city, stopping at the Louisville Hotel.

Four hundred and fifty three men started to New York yesterday, en route for Sherman's army on the coast.

No more passes will be issued at Col.
Farleigh's Post Headquarters.

Four deserters in frowns arrived here from Cincinnati yesterday.

Amusements.

WOOD'S THEATRE.—Again this popular resort of amusement crowded to its utmost capacity last night, to witness the great play of the Seven Sisters. The play is put on the stage in the very best possible manner, the mechanical effects working to perfection. The birth of Cupid in the bosom of Venus, which is the closing scene, is one of the most perfect and beautiful we have ever seen. The piece will be repeated to-night, when we have no doubt that the house will again be crowded.

LOUISVILLE THEATRE.—Mad. Poxoni and Mr.
E. M. Powers commenced an engagement at this house last night. To-night they appear in the great opera of Madame, or the Daughter of the Regiment.

VARIETIES.—Of course the house was crowded again, and everybody who had a "soul for music" seemed to be agreeably disappointed in the performances of Ryan & Calhoun's minstrels. Go tonight and see them, and you will not have cause to regret it.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION IMPENDING IN EU-ROPE.—One of the greatest triumphs of modern times declared that "no power on earth has a right to forbid his countrymen to recover, and, if necessary, to reconquer the independence of their native country." On this principle the Fenian Brotherhood takes its stand, and the great object of all its members —who now amount to hundreds of thousands of true-hearted Irishmen—is to deliver Ireland from English tyranny, and to effect a free and independent republic in that fertile and beautiful country. A lecture on this subject will be delivered by Dr. David Bell in the Masonic Temple to-morrow evening, the 31st inst., at eight o'clock, and readers who take an interest in the fate of "the old Green Isle" will do well to be present on the occasion. We understand that the proceedings will commence with the presentation by some patriotic Irishman of a resolution relating to the circles of the Brotherhood in this city.

The telegraph has furnished information to the effect that the recent raid into Western Virginia was a perfect success. The expedition whipped and scattered Breckinridge's forces, including Vaughn's and Duke's cavalry commands, tore up and destroyed railroads, burned bridges, Wytheville and Salisbury, destroyed the salt and lead works, and put an end to the existence of a rebel department in Western Virginia. The expedition were at last accounts retreating from that region of country for a field of more active operations. It can be found, and they were in good order and fine spirits, the whole command being under the strictest and best discipline. The expedition was commanded by Major General Stoneman, which consisted of the divisions of Major General Burbridge and General Gilliam.

ROBERT OF TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS.— Yesterday morning a negro woman by the name of Mary Gay was presented before the Police Court on the charge of stealing two hundred dollars, having been arrested by officers H. B. Green and Chas. Orvinton. She was employed in the house of Mrs. Price, who lives on Eighth street, between Market and Jefferson, and on Wednesday, during the absence of that lady from home, she broke open her trunk and abstracted the money. The case was continued until Monday, when it will be investigated by Judge Johnson.

FOUND DEAD.—The New Albany Ledger of yesterday says two refugees, a man and his little daughter, were found dead on Tuesday, in a miserable hovel near the river, between third and Jeffersonville. Their names are unknown, and it is supposed they either starved or froze to death. The sufferings of the poor refugees during this pinching cold weather are terrible. No one should refuse to aid them.

AS a further instance of the lawless conduct of the "Y. M. C.," held at their hall on 97th street, the following citizens were elected: Smith Gregory, W. M.; Ben. C. Waite, S. W.; John W. Gault, J. W.; J. Bush, Treasurer; W. F. Rubel, Secretary; A. Ellison, S. D.; J.
McQuown, J. D., and Jas. W. Irvine, Tyler.

DEATH OF LIEUTENANT COLONEL BOYLE.— We learn that Lieutenant Colonel Boyle, of the Eleventh Kentucky cavalry, was killed during the engagement at Marion, between Burbridge and Breckinridge's forces. He was a young man well known in this city, and was a brave and gallant young soldier.

The Provost Marshal of the Second district of Indiana sent three cheques to this city yesterday to have their cases inquired into: Eli R. Nichol, a supposed guerrilla from Hancock county, Kentucky; W. H. Summers, same county, a deserter, and Jessie Bush, a suspicious character.

A soldier was sold last night. He stopped a gentleman on Third street, and ordered him to "stand and deliver." The gentleman did both—handed him a coin which the soldier took for a $20 gold piece and went on. It was a two-cent copper coin.

On Tuesday morning a lot of guerrillas attempted to capture the steamer Palestine, near Uniontown. The boat had almost landed, but upon making the discovery, backed out and escaped.

A lot of government stores are being turned over to the military authorities here from Lexington and other points in the Bluegrass region.

A number of new freight cars for the United States Military railroad arrived here yesterday, and were put upon the First street track.

Four deserters were arrested in Jerseynville yesterday and brought over to this side and put away for safe keeping.

Thompson, the clever newsboy, has our thanks for Cincinnati papers yesterday.

It was Captain Cockrell, forty seventh Kentucky, and his men who captured nine of Gen. Gentry's men on Christmas day, near Bethlehem in Henry county. They were sent to Lexington on Monday. Their names are Lieutenant Columbus Finley, Wm. E. Waller, Geo. S. Owen, George Graves, Jackson Banks, Leon Payne, Wm. H. Morgan, Monroe Welman and Franklin Johnson.

The wife, son and daughter of the rebel General Preston, of Kentucky, arrived at Boston a few days ago, as passengers in the Africa Orders from the War Department refused their permission to land, and also declined their request to leave by rail for Canada. They will remain on the steamer to be carried back whenever they come.

W. C. DePaw, of Washington county, is the highest income tax-payer in Indiana.
He pays taxes on an income of $100,000 for the year 1864, as follows: Three per cent. original tax, $4,800, five per cent. additional tax, $8,000, total tax, $12,800.

We learn that Col. Frank Wolford is in Lexington, Kentucky, confined in a room, and not permitted to converse with any one without permission of the military authorities. He is well.

Col. G. G. Gentry, company G, Twenty-sixth regiment, Indiana Infantry, Kentucky cavalry, died at Frankfort on the 20th inst.

A crazy man was drowned at dam No.
3, on Kentucky river, on Saturday. His name was not known.

A little child fell into a cistern on Tuesday, in Cincinnati, and was drowned.

Rock Haven, Dec. 28, 1864.
Messrs. Editors: I read in your paper of this date an account of the capture of some of Jesse's men on Monday last, near Pleasant River. It was under the head of "Thought Provoker."

You mention in the article the capture of the notorious George A. Owen and Findley. How strange to read such a statement with regard to young Owen. I have been boarding, some time last spring, in the same house of which he was a resident. He is only fifteen years old; was a school boy until the last five weeks, and went off without the consent or knowledge of his parents, and has always been a boy of accomplished character, a sensible and intelligent young man, and it is hard to believe that he has been so reckless, and will return, as has been alleged, to his school. He never was in a habit of doing anything to make him notorious. Please insert this and correct such a misstatement. It will do him no harm, and will do the public only good to clear his character from motives of justice.

Respectfully yours, &c., F.

A correspondent writing to the Cincinnati Commercial from Mount Sterling, Kentucky, says: "On the night of the 21st inst. a party of slaves made a descent on the house of R. A. Thomas, late Lieutenant of the Fourteenth Kentucky cavalry, some six miles from this place, aiming to kill him. They went to the door and rattled the latch, which was fastened, and a Mr. Bradshaw, who also lived at the same house, thinking it some of the persons belonging to the house, opened the door, and was shot through the breast, and died instantly. When these desperadoes found that it was not Thomas, they killed them by searching the house and burnt it down. They took four horses and some baggage from the house, and one horse and baggage from the stable, and then fled. The captain of the house, who was a free man, and was a member of the Fourteenth Kentucky cavalry, and then went on to Kiddville, some five miles from Thomas', and robbed two stores, taking some seven hundred dollars worth of goods. All this was done on one night, by about fifteen guerrillas. Some of them were recognized; among them the notorious Frank Ferguson, who was raised in this neighborhood."

GENERAL BUTLER COMING TO KENTUCKY.
The Cincinnati Gazette says: General Smith, Representative in Congress, who is just from Lexington, Ky., in a speech at Odd Fellows' Hall, in Covington, on Monday night, gave it as his opinion that General Butler's headquarters would be at Lexington, Kentucky, on the 15th inst. He also stated that General Butler is expected to arrive in this city in a few days, and that he will be in the city in a few days.

Tobacco Meeting.

The following proceedings of a meeting of the tobacco merchants in St. Louis, which were received by Geo. W. Wicks, have been handed us for publication:

At a meeting of the manufacturers and dralers of tobacco in the city of St. Louis, held at the City Tobacco Warehouse, on Wednesday, Dec. 28, 1864, Geo. W. Wicks, Esq., was elected moderator, and D. P. Rowland, Esq., secretary.

Mr. Rucker explained the object of the meeting—to take into consideration the proposed tax on leaf tobacco to be levied by the Federal Government, and to take action thereon.
On motion of Adolphus Mier, Esq., a committee, consisting of three men, was appointed to draft resolutions, to report on the subject.
Mr. P. and J. K. Erickson were appointed said committee, who presented the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted as the sense of the meeting:

Resolved, That a tax on leaf tobacco would be contrary to the interests of the producers, the manufacturers and the exporters, and fall in the object of producing a larger revenue, as a supervision of an article grown all over the country would be impossible, and as attempt to guard against fraud would prove fruitless, and cause an immense expenditure by the number of revenue officers it would require.

Resolved, That it has been proven to the respective committees of the last Congress, by delegations representing the different interests, that the proposed tax would be highly detrimental to the cultivation and export of tobacco, and that the same has been proven to be so by the fact that the tobacco growers in the United States would give no tobacco to the business; it would cause unnecessary expense and embroil the manufacturers, by forcing them to supply their wants in some other way, and in opening the tobacco, often finds such as were not suitable for their purposes, and on which the tax had been paid withdrawing.

Resolved, That we believe the present law for taxing and collecting tobacco to be the most simple and most correct way for collecting a revenue, and that it can be better considered than any other manner proposed.

Resolved, That the duties levied since the passage of the present law in the Congress of 1862, have been a great burden to the tobacco growers, and that the same should be repealed, and the duties levied since the passage of the present law in the Congress of 1862, should be repealed, and the duties levied since the passage of the present law in the Congress of 1862, should be repealed, and the duties levied since the passage of the CINCINNATI, Dec. 29.

Three members of the family of John M. Boone, Deerfield, Warren county, Ohio, were murdered in their beds on last Monday night, and two others badly wounded, by some unknown person.

A dispatch to the Commercial from Louisville, Ky., says the raid of General Boone's forces was a perfect success. Breckinridge, Vaughan, and Duke were whipped, their artillery captured, and their forces scattered.

Saltillo was burned and the works destroyed.

The railroad from Bristol to twenty miles beyond Wytheville was destroyed with all the rolling stock.

Bristol and Wytheville are in ruins. The property destroyed is estimated at $300,000.

Saltillo was burned and the works destroyed.

The Tribune's Washington special says that it was five thousand colored troops who were landed near Fort Fisher. They took up a strong position and held it against a vigorous attack.

They then attacked and carried at the point of the bayonet the fort in front of Fort Fisher.

The rebels, reformed, returned and retaken the fort, driving our black troops with heavy loss.

What remained of these were then re-formed, and the men of war again opened fire on Fort Fisher.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.

The Herald's Washington special reiterates the statement that Messey was mortally wounded by one of our shots and has since died.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 29.

A package of Quartermaster's vouchers, amounting to the aggregate of upwards of $300,000, duly approved and issued by Capt. J. C. Crane, A. Q. M. at Nashville, was taken from the train en route to the Louisville and Nashville railroad on the 23rd.

They are in favor of parties in Cincinnati, Buffalo, Chicago, Michigan City, Albany, Boston, Philadelphia, New York, and other cities. Express notices the public not to negotiate or receive them.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.

On the subject of volunteers, Governor Hall's message says:

Up to the first of July last, Missouri called 10,000 men for service in the late war, and in the districts which are behind, a deficiency is believed to arise from excessive enrollment. The total number of men furnished up to 30th March 1862, in addition to which we have had 60,000 militia organized and in field when required.

The steamer More Castle, from Havana the 24th, has arrived.

Reports were received at Havana via Porto Rico that the San Domingo rebels had submitted to the Spanish Government.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 29.

Union prisoners who escaped from Florence, and who were taken on the 27th at Columbia direct, state that Hood's advance arrived at the Tennessee river on Wednesday, the 21st.

The next day his infantry crossed on the pontoon which had removed above the shoals out of the reach of our gunboats.

One of the prisoners states that Hood's advance Tennessee with one hundred and fifty cannon; he counted twenty-five on his return on Saturday, when I wrote this article of the Tennessee river.

They heard heavy cannonading in the direction of Florence, probably Breckinridge's force engaged with Forrest.

There is intense indignation against Hood in the rebel army.

DEPARTURES OF TENNESSEANS FROM HOOD.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 27.

Gen. Thomas is not idle, but his movements are contraband. His headquarters are still at Pulaski. His army is still at work. The telegraph is in operation to Pulaski, and the railroad to Duck river will be required to complete the train-work over that stream.

Nearly all of the Tennesseans have left Hood. They are found in nearly every house in this region. They usually send a man in and take the cash. Among the number who have abandoned Hood is Hon. A. Nicholson.

The Tennesseans are very high, so that in many places it is over the banks.

HOOD CROSSING THE TENNESSEE AT PULASKI—NASHVILLE ARMY DESTROYED—TENSSEANS WITH HIS REAR.

From escaped prisoners who left the rebel army eight miles this side of Florence, Ala., and arrived this morning, I learn that Hood's army were crossing the Tennessee river on the 21st. Hood in person crossed a week ago. The rebels took two pontons at Florence; the upper one is above the reach of our gunboats. It had been built when they came into Tennessee, and it was found that the lower one was in ruins. The prisoners were with the rebels when they were taken. One of them stated by the bridge as the army crossed and counted seventy cannon; after the battle of Nashville, he said he saw more than twenty five. The rebels acknowledge they lost half their army while in Tennessee. Men from the 8th Cavalry who they will not get back with Hood. All credit him without doubt. Hood owns his salvation to Forrest. Our cavalry have proved his near necessity; it was only the Union cavalry who saved him. I was only the Union cavalry who saved him. I was only the Union cavalry who saved him.

Gen. has pushed the rebels so closely that he has the military no chance to
